2. How super works

About super

Super is a means of saving for your retirement which is in part compulsory. It may become one of the biggest investments you make in your lifetime. Nearly every Australian has the right to choose the super fund into which their employer pays their super. The Australian Government has provided tax concessions and other benefits which generally make super one of the best long-term investment vehicles.

Contributions

Different types of contributions can be made to super – for example, employer, personal and government contributions. Generally, if you're under 65 years of age, contributions can be accepted from you, your spouse, your employer and the government. Once you turn 65, there are strict rules around accepting contributions. Asgard Employee Super can accept all Superannuation Guarantee (SG) contributions from your employer. Limits (known as 'caps') generally apply to the amount of most contributions that can be made to your super. If you exceed the caps, additional tax is payable.

 For more information on choosing your own super fund, ways to add to your super, acceptable contributions and contributions caps please see the 'Choice of fund', 'Adding to your super', 'Acceptable contributions', 'Additional information for certain contributions' and 'Contributions caps' sections in '2. How super works' and the 'Adding to your super' section in '3. How your account works' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 1 - General.

Withdrawals

Limitations apply to withdrawals because your super is intended to provide for your retirement. Generally, you cannot access your super until you turn 65, or retire after reaching your preservation age (between 55 and 60, depending on your date of birth). In limited circumstances, your super can be accessed before you retire if a condition of release is met.

 For more information on accessing your super, your preservation age, unclaimed money, temporary residents and illiquid or suspended managed investments please see the 'Access to your super', 'Your preservation age', 'Unclaimed money' and 'Temporary residents' sections in '2. How super works' and the 'Accessing your Asgard Employee Super', 'Withdrawals' and 'Illiquid or suspended managed investments' sections in '3. How your account works' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 1 - General.

1 Additional tax may apply to high income earners. For more information, please see the 'High income earners 15% additional tax (known as Division 293 tax)' section in '4. How super is taxed' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 1 - General.

2 The low rate cap (or lifetime limit) may change from time to time. Up to date information is available at ato.gov.au.

Important: When deciding how you want your super to be invested, you must consider the likely investment return, risk and your investment timeframe.

Whilst you can contribute as much as you like, there are limits (caps) on the amount of contributions that can be taxed at the standard contributions tax rates. You may incur additional tax if you exceed certain caps. The two main caps available to you are the concessional and non-concessional caps. It's your responsibility to make sure you don't exceed them.

You should provide your Tax File Number (TFN) as part of opening your account. If you don't supply us with your TFN, we're required under law to only accept employer contributions and additional tax may apply.

Can you be invested in more than one Option?

You may choose to be invested in any one (or a multiple) of these Options.

Important: For more information, please see the 'Multiple accounts' section in '3. How your account works' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 1 - General.

How do you move from one Option to another?

You can change your Option at any time by completing the applicable form.

- > To change to Asgard MySuper - simply complete a Switch request form, available from your financial adviser, or on Investor Online.
- > To change to either Asgard SMA - Funds or Asgard Managed Profiles - simply complete the Investment Selection form contained in the List of Available Investment Options Booklet.

What you should consider when changing from Asgard MySuper to either Asgard SMA - Funds or Asgard Managed Profiles

There are four key differences:

- > fees (please see the '7. Fees and other costs' section in this PDS)
- > the way tax is allocated
- > a minimum cash balance requirement, and
- > who chooses your investment strategy.

With Asgard MySuper, the mix of assets will be adjusted over time as you move closer to retirement to a more conservative asset mix. With Asgard SMA - Funds or Asgard Managed Profiles you are responsible for choosing your own investments. We recommend you regularly review your investment strategy with your financial adviser to accommodate changes in your circumstances and market conditions over time.

What you should consider when changing from either Asgard SMA - Funds or Asgard Managed Profiles to Asgard MySuper

There are four key differences:

- > fees (please see the '7. Fees and other costs' section in this PDS)
- > the way tax is allocated
- > you will no longer have a minimum cash balance requirement, and
- > we will look after your investment strategy and automatically adjust your investments over time.

You will also realise any capital gains and losses on your investments which will be sold when you move to Asgard MySuper. Any taxes owing at the time of your transfer, including capital gains, will be deducted from your account, but you will still be eligible to receive any annual tax credits which relate to the current or prior financial years, provided your Asgard MySuper account remains open. For more information, please see the 'How tax is calculated and paid' section in '4. How super is taxed' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 1 - General.

You should consider your tax position carefully before you decide to change your Option.

For an overview of taxation of super and more information about tax on contributions, collection and use of your Tax File Number (TFN), claiming tax deductions for your personal contributions, and tax on income within your account please see '4. How super is taxed' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 1 - General.

4. How we invest your money

When deciding how you want your super to be invested, you must consider the likely investment return, risk and your investment timeframe.

Option 1 – Asgard MySuper (Default)

If your employer opens your Asgard Employee Super account and/or if you don't make an investment choice, an Asgard MySuper account will be opened for you.

Asgard MySuper is invested in the Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option applicable to the year you were born. It satisfies the MySuper rules established by the government.

Your Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option gives you access to a diversified portfolio of assets through the Asgard MySuper PST which holds units in a corresponding Lifestage managed investment.

The Lifestage managed investments are managed by Advance and aim to achieve an appropriate level of risk and return over time by automatically adjusting the mix of assets throughout your life, as you move closer to retirement.

There is a different Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option for each decade, designed to suit members born within that decade, whose investment needs and approach to risk over time is typical of investors around the same age. You can only invest in the Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option applicable to the year you were born.

Your Welcome Pack will confirm the Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option applicable to you.

For example, Sarah was born in May 1986 – she's 32 years old. Based on her birth year, she'll be invested into the Asgard MySuper 1980's Lifestage Investment Option that's designed for younger members like Sarah who are a long way off retirement. The investment mix for this age is currently more growth oriented to target a higher return over the long-term.

What is the investment return objective and level of risk of your Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option?

Each Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option has an objective to provide an investment return above the Consumer Price Index (CPI) which is a generally accepted measure of inflation. The specific investment return objective changes over time and so does the level of risk. Please see '2. Risks of super' in the Additional information Booklet Part 2 - Investment for more information about the relationship between risk and investment returns.

The following table shows the investment return objective (after fees and taxes) and the level of risk for each Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option as at 1 July 2018. The Standard Risk Measure is a way of describing the level of risk of different managed investments (with 1 being the lowest and 7 the highest) and provides a guide on the expected number of negative annual returns over any 20 year period. It does not consider all forms of investment risk.

Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option	Description	Investment return objective (over a 10 year period) ¹	Standard Risk Measure ²	Minimum suggested investment timeframe
1940's	You have probably retired or are close to retirement. The focus is on maintaining the real value of your investment. If you were born before 1950 you'll be invested in this investment option.	CPI + 1.1% pa	3. Low to medium	4 years
1950's	Retirement is approaching. The focus is on protecting the value of your investment while still seeking some growth.	CPI + 1.3% pa	3. Low to medium	4 years
1960's	Retirement is getting closer. The focus is on achieving a balance between the potential for growth and the level of risk.	CPI + 2.1% pa	5. Medium to high	5 years
1970's	Your savings are continuing. Growth remains the main focus.	CPI + 3.3% pa	6. High	7 years

1990's	You're in the early stages of your working life. The focus is on maximising growth.	CPI + 3.3% pa	6. High	7 years
2000's	Your savings have just commenced. The focus is on maximising growth.	CPI + 3.3% pa	6. High	7 years

1 After fees and taxes.

2 It provides a guide on the expected number of negative annual returns over any 20 year period. It does not consider all forms of investment risk and does not take into account tax. This is based on industry guidance to allow investors to compare investment options that are expected to deliver a similar number of negative annual returns over any 20 year period. The investment return that you may experience over your lifetime will depend on when you join the Investment Option and how long you remain invested.

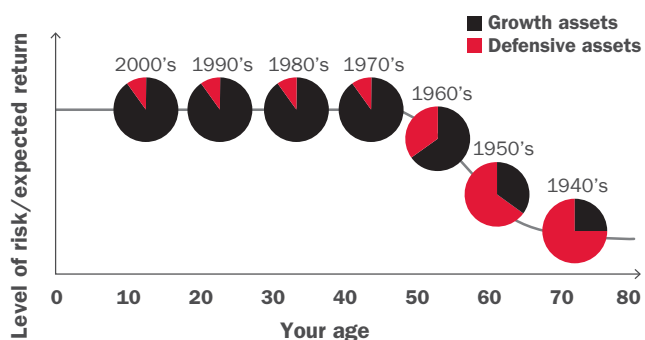

For more information about the relationship between risk and investment please see the 'Standard Risk Measure' section in '2. Risks of super' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 2 - Investment.

What does your Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option invest in?

The Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option aims to achieve an appropriate level of risk and return over time by automatically adjusting the mix of assets as you move closer to retirement.

Over time the Asgard MySuper Lifestage Investment Option will gradually shift to a more conservative asset mix. It does this by reducing the allocation to growth assets, such as shares and property, and increasing the allocation to defensive assets, such as fixed income and cash.

The strategic asset allocation is the mix of growth and defensive assets set with the aim of achieving the investment return objective.

For information about how your Asgard MySuper account is invested including the strategic asset allocation and ranges please see '3. Asgard MySuper (Default)' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 2 - Investment.

Option 2 – Asgard Separately Managed Account – Funds (Asgard SMA – Funds)

Within Asgard SMA - Funds, we've constructed five pre-set portfolios (as shown in the table on the next page) tailored to meet specific investment risk tolerance levels. There's a portfolio to suit you, no matter whether you're a cautious investor or willing to take greater risks for a higher return on your money.

With Asgard SMA – Funds, you make just one investment decision by choosing the portfolio that matches your risk profile.

Currently, each portfolio invests in a single underlying managed investment and, as a member, your investment consists of units in that underlying managed investment.

The underlying managed investments are collectively known as the Advance Diversified Multi-Blend Funds for which Advance is the responsible entity.

The Advance Diversified Multi-Blend Funds provide diversified exposure to different underlying manager strategies, offering a ready-made mix of asset sectors to match risk profiles, investment timeframes and objectives.

The following table summarises the objective, strategy, and the level of risk of each Asgard SMA – Fund.

Asgard SMA - Funds	Objective	Investment Strategy	Standard Risk Measure	Minimum suggested investment timeframe
Defensive	To provide income with a low risk of capital loss over the short to medium-term with some capital growth over the long-term.	The Fund invests in a diverse mix of assets with a majority (about 70%) in defensive assets and a modest investment (about 30%) in growth assets.	3. Low to medium	3 years
Moderate	To provide relatively stable total returns (before fees and taxes) over the short to medium-term with some capital growth over the long-term through a diversified mix of growth and defensive assets.	The Fund invests in a mix of defensive assets (around 50%) and growth assets (around 50%).	4. Medium	4 years
Balanced	To provide moderate to high total returns (before fees and taxes) over the medium-term from a combination of capital growth and income through a diversified mix of growth and defensive assets.	The Fund invests in a diverse mix of assets with both income-producing assets (around 30%) and growth assets (around 70%).	5. Medium to high	5 years
Growth	To provide high returns (before fees and taxes) over the long-term through capital growth by investing predominantly in growth assets.	The Fund invests in a diverse mix of assets with an emphasis (about 85%) on growth-oriented assets and investment (about 15%) in defensive assets.	6. High	6 years
High Growth	To provide high total returns (before fees and taxes) over the long-term through capital growth by investing predominantly in growth assets.	The Fund invests primarily in growth assets (about 100%).	6. High	7 years

 For more information about the investment objectives and the investment process of the Advance Diversified Multi-Blend Funds and the key characteristics of each of the five Asgard SMA - Funds please see '4. Asgard SMA - Funds' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 2 - Investment.

Any special terms agreed with your former employer won't apply. This may mean you're assessed under the Activities of Daily Living definition of disability. Definitions and interpretation of insurance terms are detailed in the Glossary section of the Additional Information Booklet Part 3 – Insurance available online at asgard.com.au.

6. Risks of super

All investments involve risk. Super funds may invest in a range of asset classes, including cash, fixed interest, property and shares, which have different levels of risk.

Asgard Employee Super offers a variety of investment options, containing different weightings of these asset classes. The likely investment return, and the risk of losing money, is different for each investment option depending on the underlying mix of assets.

Generally, the higher the potential return of an investment over the longer term, the greater the level of risk of loss in the shorter term.

What are the risks involved?

When considering your investment in super, it's important to understand that:

- > investments will fluctuate in value
- > returns are not guaranteed and you may lose some, or all, of your money
- > depending on your investment profile, and the associated liquidity risk, part or all of your assets may become illiquid
- > investment returns can be volatile and future returns may vary from past returns. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance

- > laws affecting your super may change in the future, and
- > the amount of your future super savings (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to provide adequately for your retirement.

Processing of transactions may be delayed in some circumstances, for example, when an investment manager delays issuing unit prices. Managed investments may also be closed, varied or terminated, or investment managers replaced without notice.

There are particular risks associated with each investment option. These could include (among other things) risks specific to a certain security, market risk, currency risk, interest rate risk, derivatives and gearing risk, alternative investments risk, credit risk, liquidity risk and legal and regulatory risk.

The appropriate level of risk for you will depend on your age, investment timeframe, where other parts of your wealth are invested, and your risk tolerance.

For more information about the risks involved with investing please see '2. Risks of super' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 2 - Investment.

7. Fees and other costs

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.¹

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the superannuation entity as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees, advice fees for personal advice and insurance fees, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity, advice or insurance chosen by you.

Taxes, insurance fees and other costs relating to insurance are set out in another part of this document and in the Additional Information Booklet.

You should read all the information about fees and other costs because it's important to understand their impact on your investment.

¹ This warning is prescribed by law. Fees in Asgard Employee Super Account are only negotiable with your employer.

The fees and other costs for the MySuper product offered by the superannuation entity, and each option offered by the entity are set out in the table below.

GST and taxes

The fees and other costs shown in this section don't take into account any income tax benefit (if applicable) but do include the Goods and Services Tax (GST) and any available stamp duty and are net of any available Reduced Input Tax Credits (RITCs), unless otherwise stated. The benefit of tax deductions to Asgard Employee Super, if any, will be passed on to you in the form of a reduced fee or cost.

Personal advice fees

Additional fees may be payable if you have consulted a financial adviser.

Asgard Employee Super provides you and your financial adviser (if you have one) with flexibility when determining the amount and type of fees your financial adviser may receive for personal financial advice and related services he or she provides you in relation to your account.

You may agree to pay your financial adviser a one-off or ongoing monthly fee from your Asgard Employee Super account.

Your financial adviser must disclose to you any benefits they receive in relation to your account, including all fees and costs you have negotiated with them. Please see your financial adviser's Financial Services Guide and/or Statement of Advice for further information on these benefits.

If an ongoing fee arrangement exists between you and your financial adviser, your financial adviser will also be required to give you an annual Fee Disclosure Statement.

You and your financial adviser are responsible for notifying us to cease payment of adviser remuneration/fees in the event that the ongoing fee arrangement is either terminated or not renewed.

Buy-sell spread

When units in a managed investment are bought and sold, transaction and brokerage costs are incurred. These costs are applied to those members who buy and sell units in particular managed investments through the use of two different unit prices – a buy price and a sell price. The difference between the buy price and sell price takes these transaction costs into account and is called the buy-sell spread.

The estimated buy-sell spreads for the managed investments available through Asgard Employee Super currently range from 0.00% (that is, no buy-sell spread) to 1.10%. This cost is retained by the underlying investment managers (it's not a fee paid to us) and is an additional cost to you when you buy or sell units in the managed investments.

For example, if you invest $10,000 in a managed investment and the buy price is $1.00 per unit, you'll receive 10,000 units. If you subsequently sell all of the units on the same day, the units will be sold at the sell price. If the sell price is $0.995 per unit (a 0.50% buy-sell spread applies), you'll only receive $9,950 for the sale of those 10,000 units.

Please note: this example is for illustrative purposes only.

Insurance fees

Your insurance fees are your insurance premiums. Insurance fees are charged to cover the cost of insurance available through Asgard Employee Super. All or part of the insurance fees paid through your account may be claimed as tax deductions by us. We'll calculate these deductions and reflect them in the value of your account.

We receive up to 14% (including any applicable GST) of insurance premium payments from the Insurer as remuneration for the administrative services we provide. This remuneration is included in the insurance premium rate.

No adviser remuneration is included in any Standard Insurance or Comprehensive Cover premiums. For more information, please see the '8. Insurance in your super' section in this PDS and the '4. Insurance fee rate table' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 3 – Insurance for more information about premiums that may be applicable to you.

Changes in fees and costs

We may alter any of the fees and other costs, or introduce new fees and other costs without your consent. You'll receive at least 30 days written notice of any proposal to introduce new fees and other costs, or to increase current fees and costs (other than increases as a result of indexation). If you nominate an ongoing flat dollar amount Personal advice fee, this fee may be increased annually in line with the Consumer Price Index.

When we're told that you have left your employer, you and your spouse and family member(s) (if applicable) will automatically become 'Personal members' within Asgard Employee Super. Any employer-related discounts on fees and insurance fees will ordinarily cease, unless your former employer has negotiated otherwise. Any employer tiering discount on the Administration fee will generally cease and your insurance fees may change when you become a 'Personal member'.

For more detailed information about fees and other costs please see '5. Fees and other costs' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 1 - General.

Costs of cover

The amount you pay for insurance is called an 'insurance fee' or 'insurance premium'. Insurance fees are based on the type and amount of cover you or your employer has chosen along with various factors such as your age, gender and occupation.

Your insurance fee and amount of cover, if applicable, are calculated when your insurance commences, when we're notified of certain changes to your membership details (eg occupation), when your cover changes, or when your insurance is recalculated annually on the date nominated by your employer based upon your age.

You must advise us when your employment status changes so your premiums and cover can be reviewed and adjusted as appropriate.

 Important: Unless you decline to acquire or cancel Standard Insurance Cover or Comprehensive Cover, we will deduct your insurance fees from your account on a monthly basis in advance.

For more information about the cost of your insurance please see the 'Cost of your insurance' section in '1. Insurance with Asgard' and the '4. Insurance fee rate tables' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 3 - Insurance.

9. How to open an account

Steps to apply

Asgard Employee Super is open to employees of a participating employer, self-employed persons (eg sole trader) and spouse or family members of employer-sponsored members.

If your employer opened your account for you, you don't need to do anything.

To establish an Asgard Employee Super account directly, complete the Application form with your financial adviser (available on AdviserNET), or send your completed Application form to the address on the form. Application forms are available online at asgard.com.au.

Once your application is accepted and processed, as a new member you'll receive a Welcome Pack with details of your account, including fees, insurance and your contact details, as well as a Personal Identification Number (PIN) to access Investor Online.

 For more information on who can open an account, spouse and family accounts, having multiple accounts, the financial adviser for your account, where you can access information about your account online and what you will receive once your account is opened, please see the 'Opening an account' section in '3. How your account works' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 1 - General.

Cooling-off period (for employer/spouse/family members only)

If you're a non-employee member, such as a sole trader, spouse or family member, you're entitled to a 14-day cooling-off period in respect of your first application for participation in Asgard Employee Super to ensure you're happy with your application to participate in Asgard Employee Super. Your cooling-off period commences on the date you receive confirmation of your application or the end of the fifth business day after the day you become a member, whichever is earlier. This cooling-off period only applies to the first contribution made into your account.

The cooling-off period doesn't apply if you're an employee member enrolled in your employer's plan by your employer, or if you joined Asgard Employee Super as part of a successor fund transfer from another super fund. If your employer exercises their cooling-off rights, this may impact your account.

If applicable, you may exercise your cooling-off rights by notifying us in writing within the cooling-off period. You cannot exercise your cooling-off rights if you've exercised any other rights or powers available to you under the terms of Asgard Employee Super (eg if you've made an investment switch).

The amount received will reflect any market movements (up or down) in the value of the investment(s) in your account. We may also deduct any taxes, reasonable transaction costs and administration costs. As a result, the amount redeemed may be less than your original investment. The sale of any investments required to action the refund may also result in the realisation of a taxable capital gain.

You may redeem your investment from Asgard Employee Super by having your money paid to another complying super fund or paid directly back to you (in the latter case, only if you satisfy a condition of release of preserved benefits). If your money is required to be paid to another super fund, or you wish to have the money paid to another super fund, you must nominate that fund to us. You must make such a nomination to us within one month of your refund request.

If you don't advise us of the complying super fund, retirement savings account or approved deposit fund you would like your money to be rolled over to, we'll roll over your money to our approved Eligible Rollover Fund. Shortly after your benefits are transferred, you'll receive a product disclosure statement for the Eligible Rollover Fund. Please see the 'Eligible Rollover Fund' section in '7. Other information' in the Additional Information Booklet Part 1 – General for details of our approved Eligible Rollover Fund.

Please note: the cooling-off period does not apply if your participation in Asgard Employee Super is as a result of a successor fund transfer, or if you're an employee member enrolled in your employer's plan by your employer, or in respect of you becoming a Personal member upon ceasing employment with the employer who established your Asgard Employee Super account.
