User registration

General obligations

You agree that:

- You warrant and represent on a continuing basis that:
 - a) you are not a Sanctioned Party;
 - b) you are in no way connected with a Sanctioned.Party;
 - c) you will comply with all Sanctions Laws applicable to you; and
 - d) you will immediately notify us in writing if you become aware or reasonably suspect that any of the representations and warranties in this clause are, or become, false.
- You and your Nominated Users must each:
 - a) hold an AFSL to provide the financial services you provide to a Client in connection with AdviserNET; or
 - b) otherwise be exempt from the requirement to hold an AFSL (for example, because you are an employee or authorised representative of an AFSL holder).
- If you accept these terms and conditions as an authorised representative of an AFSL holder, you bind both yourself and that AFSL holder to comply with these terms and conditions.
- You will comply with all applicable laws relating to the financial services you provide in connection with AdviserNET, and you will ensure that your Nominated Users do the same.
- You will act honestly and professionally, and will use all due diligence and vigilance, when acting for your Client in relation to an AdviserNET product or service.
- You will immediately notify us if:
 - a) you become aware of a material breach or likely to breach by you or your Nominated User of any relevant law or these terms and conditions in a way that may affect the provision of services in relation to AdviserNET; or
 - b) you cease to be authorised to provide the financial services you provide in connection with AdviserNET.
- You will comply with our reasonable directions in connection with your use of AdviserNET and your provision of services in relation to AdviserNET, and will ensure that your Nominated Users do the same (including by notifying your Client of such matters as we require).

Information you must give us

You agree that:

- You must provide us with any information we reasonably require about you, your Nominated Users, your Client and any services you provide to your Client, and must ensure that you are authorised to provide this information to us. This includes such information as we reasonably require to:
 - a) assist us to demonstrate that we have complied with relevant law or regulatory policy; or
 - b) enable us to comply with any obligation or requirement of a regulator or our auditors; or
 - c) enable us to carry out any assessment required under the AML/CTF Act or AML/CTF Rules (including copies of your applicable customer identification procedures); or
 - d) evidence your compliance with your obligations under these terms and conditions.
- You and your Nominated Users must keep your Client’s details in AdviserNET up-to-date.

Your responsibility for conduct

You agree that you are responsible for the conduct of, and are liable for all actions carried out, by you, your Nominated Users and any person that obtains access to AdviserNET using a password that has been issued to you or your Nominated Users (regardless of whether the conduct and actions are authorised by you if you or your Nominated Users failed to take reasonable steps to protect the confidentiality and security of the password).

AdviserNET use

General obligations

You agree to:

- Only access Client account information in AdviserNET or allow your Nominated Users to do so if you continue to provide financial services in connection with AdviserNET to the Client, and to cease accessing such information when you cease to provide such services to the Client.
- Be responsible for all hardware and software you use to access AdviserNET and the cost of all your hardware and software modifications, including modifications reasonably required by us.

By accessing, viewing or otherwise using the DDO Reporting Tool, you agree to be subject to the DDO Reporting Tool Terms of Use. You acknowledge that it is unlikely that the DDO Reporting Tool will enable you to report to a product issuer all information in connection with your distribution obligations under Part 7.8A of the Corporations Act 2001. It will not enable you to report complaints. Further, the target market determinations for different financial products may require different information to be reported to the product issuer, and the DDO Reporting Tool does not take into account the specific reporting requirements in a target market determination for any particular product. If you are required to report a particular item of information to a product issuer and the DDO Reporting Tool does not enable you to enter and submit that information, you must report that information directly to the product issuer.
- Regularly (and at least every business day) monitor AdviserNET for information made available by us and other entities that issue products or provide services in connection with AdviserNET.

Passwords

You agree to:

- The information you give us to access AdviserNET and transact on behalf of your Client will be up-to-date, correct and complete to the best of your knowledge.
- You will not give any instruction in relation to AdviserNET on behalf of a Client (including to do any transaction) if:
 - a) acting on the instruction would be prohibited by relevant law or regulatory requirements; or
 - b) the instruction is not consistent with the terms of the applicable Investor Brochures; or
 - c) you become aware that the relevant Investor Brochure is out of date, is misleading or deceptive, or otherwise does not comply with law or regulatory requirements (and you must immediately notify us of these circumstances).

- for any other reason, on three months' notice.

- You must not request an AdviserNET service or facilitate an instruction in relation to an AdviserNET product or service that may cause us to breach any AML/CTF law or sanction.
- We may take action, including delaying or refusing to provide an AdviserNET service or to process any instruction if we reasonably believe or suspect that it may, or may cause us to, breach any AML/CTF law or sanction. We will not incur any liability in doing so.

- pay the amount of the fee to the Client directly; or
- offset the fee against other fees properly due to you from the Client.
